

ZAPIK PUPPET SHOW FROM SLOVENIA

»THE MOUSE WAS MAKING PORRIDGE«

The puppets hide, steal chocolate, fall into water (and get safely out of it), carry corn into a mill, bake bread and make porridge with the help of a mouse. As with all children they don't want to go to sleep!

About ZAPIK Theatre:

Igor Cvetko (musician and illustrator) and Jelena Sitar Cvetko (dramatist and director) founded The Slovenian Society of Puppets and Music in Play, Upbringing and Therapy ten years ago.

This is one of the bestselling performances of the Zapik Puppet Theatre winning many awards at international festivals. The show is in English.

Slovenia is the most northerly of the former Yugoslavian republics famous for the grandeur of its mountains, the hospitality of its people, and the excellence of its puppet theatres. Igor Cvetko is also an ethnomusicologist and champion of Slovenian folk arts. (see www.zapik.org)
